

Gordana Drecun Mithans has been working in SPEM Communication group for the last 10 years. From the year 2001 she was working as a business manager. She was responsible for financial, legal, organizing function and human resources. Before that she gained the branch experience in SPEM's department for public relations where she was working in the areas: relations with media, organizing events and intern communication. Gordana is university-graduated economist; moreover she has finished London school for public relations and education CorpPA.