

Mitja Blagajac has been in the last ten years adviser, planner, strategist and leader of numerous important communications projects in Slovenia, in countries of ex Yugoslavia and in EU, mainly in fields of telecommunications, information technologies and communications risk. He is university-graduated economist, marketing direction. Mitja cares his rich practical experiences on others. He is lecturer on London School of Public Relations (LSPR), on Faculty of Economics and Business in Maribor and in many professional meetings. He is one of the authors of handbook Crisis Communication and Risk Management and book Lobbying is hot and author of many professional articles. In year 2001 he won prestige award of International Association of Business Communicators (IABC) Gold pen for excellence and originality in preparation the 50th anniversary of 2nd Grammar school in Maribor.